

Please don't allow the telemarketers to call me legally. It's so nice not to have my dinner hour and television time interrupted by someone trying to sell me something that I have no interest in at all. If I want something I'll call them.